

Welcome to Eggplant my Dick, the dynamic and award-worthy relationship curative app that has the potential to sweep the nation (actual app still under consideration).

The way it works is simple: If you are new to Eggplant my Dick, click the “Register” button, input a username and a password, and then click “Register” again. It’s that simple! (to get to the next step in the process). Next, have your relationship partner complete the same steps, but with a unique username. Next, you will enter your partner’s username in the field labeled (Enter partner’s username), and then have them enter your username in the same field on their login. Both of you should then click the “Link Accounts” button.

Next, enter any number of goals you want your partner to complete in the field labeled “Enter a goal.” For each goal you input, click the “Add Goal” button. You will start to see a list develop on the left side of the page, and each item on that list has a button labeled “Achieved”. Each time you indicate that one of your relationship goals for your partner is achieved, you will move one step closer to fruition, and vice versa when your partner does. Who knows what will happen when you both meet in the middle!?

This application (application pending) is a uniquely dynamic way for you and your partner to express your relationship interests in a fun and productive way. There is no end to the type of goals you can request from your partner, and vice versa! We expect one of two results from using this process. 1) You and your partner will better align in your relationship, and each will contribute something to the relationship that the other thought was previously missing, strengthening the bonds between you two and leading to who knows what!? 2) You will realize that you are not right for each other, that you were never right for each other, and you can stop wasting your miserable life!

Example scenarios:

Asynchronous: Chore – Physical

One partner is unhappy with the level of physical intimacy from their partner, the other is unhappy with their partner’s engagement with household responsibilities.

Asynchronous: Ideological – Emotional

One partner thinks their partner is a dumbass that has had their brain turned to mush by Facebook, and the other partner wants more empathy for their ultimately futile attempts to achieve that ineffable something that comes from the collective effervescence that only a group of idiots can offer.

Synchronous: Sexual

Both partners are unhappy with their sex-lives, and each wants to try new, different things.

Synchronous: Activities

Same as above, but replace sex with other types of activities, such as going to the movies or attending a racial supremacy rally.

We are aware of and concerned about some feedback this “application” is receiving with regard to the name “Eggplant my Dick,” both because of potential issues of sensibility and also because of immediate visceral reactions. Unfortunately, though the application (website) is extremely dynamic, the EmD board of directors is far less so and changing the title might be a bridge too far.
